

The Class of '33
of the
Wendell High School

"To the Stars Through Difficulties"

Compliments of
MRS. CHESTER F. VOGLER

CLASS OFFICERS

PRESIDENT .....	MAGGIE RICHARDSON
SECRETARY .....	MARJORIE FERRELL
TREASURER .....	WINIFRED TERRELL

MASCOT
CANDACE SCARBOROUGH

GRADE MOTHERS
MRS. CHESTER F. VOGLER and MRS. H. P. UNDERHILL

MOTTO
"TO THE STARS THROUGH DIFFICULTIES"

COLORS
RED AND WHITE

FLOWER
ROSE

SENIOR CLASS PLAY
 "THE BLOSSOMING OF MARY ANNE"

CAST OF CHARACTERS

William Berkeley—A Yale graduate .....		Amos Dean
Charles Mason	} Fraternity brothers of Bill }	Thomas Scarborough
Lloyd Henderson		Wingate Underhill
Teddy Farnum		Edward Mattox
Mrs. Henry Tate Kirkland .....		Gibson Scarborough
Mrs. Simmons—Mrs. Kirkland's sister .....		Helen Medlin
Mary Anne Simmons .....		Marietta Whitley
Betsy Scroggins—the hired help .....		Mabel Dean
Sarah Applegate Slissy—the town dressmaker and gossip .....		Pearl Edwards
Elaine Jewett .....		Maggie Richardson
Trella Jewett .....		Winifred Terrell
Patty Cloverleaf .....		Evelyn Dean
Mrs. Kirkland's maid .....		Marjorie Ferrell
STAGE COMMITTEE: Alvin Morris, Leo Britt, Bunny Underhill and Hurley D. Powell
PUBLICITY COMMITTEE: Billie Vogler and Alma McMillan

TEACHERS' AUTOGRAPHS

VALEDICTORIAN ..... LEO BRITT
SALUTATORIAN ..... ALMA McMILLAN
TESTATOR ..... PEARL EDWARDS
STATISTICIAN ..... AMOS DEAN
HISTORIAN ..... MARIETTA WHITLEY
POET ..... WINIFRED TERRELL
PROPHET ..... THOMAS SCARBORO
GIFTORIANS ..... ALMA McMILLAN and BILLIE VOGLER

CLASS POEM

Dear class of 1933,
Our hearts to thee are bound
Strong with the cords of golden love
That all our lives surround.

Through difficulty to the stars
This our motto brave,
As ever on and up we strive
These words our way will pave.

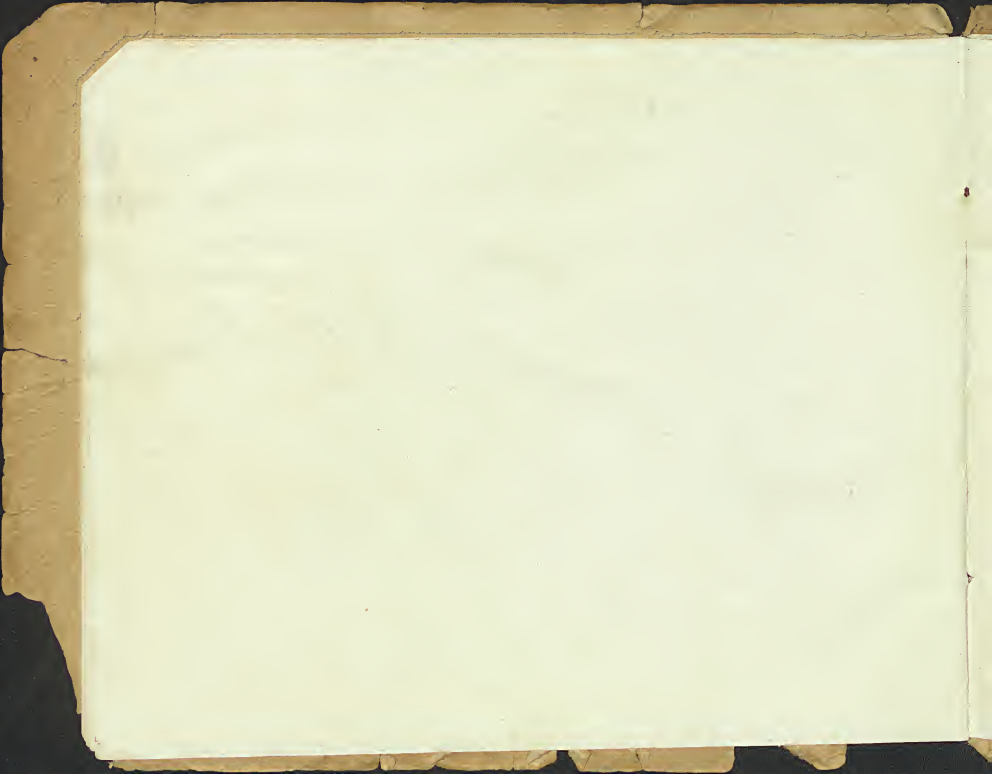

The years ahead we cannot know
The way is long 'twould seem
Through difficulty to the stars,
Of great things we will dream.

Dear God, and may we keep these dreams
Great deeds also achieve,
Thy guiding hand be with us while
We work, and love and live.

SUPERLATIVES

PRETTIEST GIRL .....	WINIFRED TERRELL
MOST HANDSOME BOY .....	THOMAS SCARBORO
MOST POPULAR GIRL .....	MARIETTA WHITLEY
MOST POPULAR BOY .....	AMOS DEAN
BEST GIRL ATHLETE .....	PEARL EDWARDS
BEST BOY ATHLETE .....	BUNNY UNDERHILI
BEST ALL ROUND GIRL .....	MAGGIE RICHARDSON
BEST ALL ROUND BOY .....	WINGATE UNDERHILL
MOST STUDIOUS .....	ETHEL JOHNSON
LAZIEST .....	ZEB RICHARDSON
SLOWEST .....	HURLEY DEAN POWELL
BIGGEST TALKER .....	BILLIE VOGLER
QUIETEST .....	ARMOUR BAKER
WITTIEST .....	JOSIE LANE

FAREWELL CLASS SONG

To the tune of "O Sole Mio"

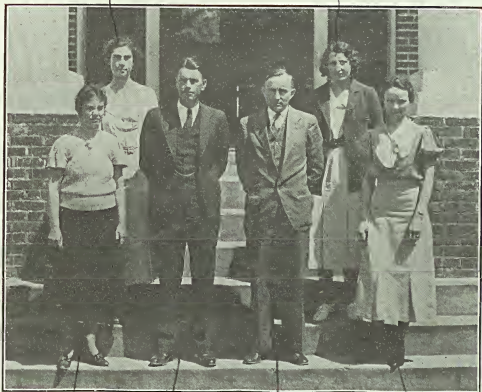

We hate to leave you, students of our High School;
We must be leaving for we are needed.
Our fame and hopes depend on moments
We spent with you in our High School days.

Chorus

We love our school dear that stands in view;
Our senior spirit is brave and true;
We pledge our hearts and hopes to live
And labor, our whole lives through.

The world is waiting for us outside;
We will be facing our fortune wide;
The dear old school that we are leaving
It is the school we love, the Wendell High.

Miss Ware

Miss Quentin
Lott

Miss Grace

FACULTY

Mr McNeely

Miss Speight

Mr Thompson

CLASS PROPHECY

- Nellie Hawkins, chewing gum champion and special singer travelling with Spegalax Medicine Show.
- Zeb Richardson, chief operatic singer in "Sweet Adeline," famous opera.
- Armour Baker, special agent for Barnum and Bailey for catching huge elephants in Africa.
- Leo Britt, candidate for presidency of the United States.
- Edward Mattox, fire chief in a wild and wooly western town.
- Haython Horton, Superintendent of Public Instruction of North Carolina.
- Ethel Johnson, meek and sympathetic teacher, of Composition and Rhetoric.
- Helen Medlin, proud mother of as large a family as deemed expedient.
- Hurley Dean Powell, political leader still arguing his way upward.
- Winifred Terroll, renowned poetess, light, airy, ephemeral subjects.
- Pearl Edwards, left forward on champion Woman's Basket Ball team.
- Billie Vogler, Society and Sunday Editor of the News and Observer.
- Alma McMillan, Artist, famous for her beautiful sketches of nature.
- Josie Lane, Editor of a wise crack column in the Raleigh Times.
- Louise Baker, mother of a thriving family of six.
- Alva Lee May, champion woman runner in the Olympics.
- Marietta Whitley, famous head of "advice to the Lovelorn", satisfaction guaranteed on all questions of the heart.
- Gibson Scarborough, beautiful motion picture heroine of lurid melodrama.
- Maggie Richardson, President of a College for young women.
- Amos Dean, father of a family of thirteen.
- Mabel Dean, prissy old maid school teacher.
- Alvin Morris, famous football star on the Yale Varsity.
- Bunny Underhill, owner and operator of the Wendell Pharmacy.
- Wingate Underhill, Supreme Court Judge with long curly wig.
- Woodrow Lloyd, a successful farmer, a tiller of the soil.
- Thomas Scarborough, Street car conductor.
- Evelyn Dean, Exaggerated old maid with glasses, curls and a cat.
- Jessie Pearl Anderson, experienced heart breaker, still breaking hearts.
- Frances Oldham, Teacher of an all redheaded kindergarten class.
- Marjorie Ferrell, slender model of gowns in a Fifth Avenue Dress Shop.
- Daphne Johnson, owner of a successful Beauty Parlor.
- Mary Frances Raybon, still being mistaken for Gibson Scarborough, moving picture double.
- Lugenia Craft, Dealer in Antiques and owner of an antique shop.

CLASS ROLL

JESSIE PEARL ANDERSON	EDWARD MATTOX
LOUISE BAKER	HELEN MEDLIN
ARMOUR BAKER	ALMA McMILLAN
LEO BRITT	ALVIN MORRIS
LUGENIA CRAFT	FRANCES OLDHAM
MABEL DEAN	HURLEY DEAN POWELL
AMOS DEAN	MARY FRANCES RAYBON
EVELYN DEAN	MAGGIE RICHARDSON
PEARL EDWARDS	ZEB RICHARDSON
MARJORIE FERRELL	GIBSON SCARBOROUGH
NELLIE HAWKINS	THOMAS SCARBOROUGH
HAYTHON HORTON	WINIFRED TERRELL
ETHEL JOHNSON	WINGATE UNDERHILL
DAPHNE JOHNSON	BUNNY UNDERHILL
JOSIE LANE	BILLIE VOGLER
WOODROW LLOYD	MARIETTA WHITLEY
ALVA LEE MAYE

Evelyn Dean
 Grace Lane
 Western Miller
 Thomas Sparrin
 Edward Miller
 Fessell Johnson
 Jimmy Underhill
 Jessie Pearl Paulsen
 Winifred Walbridge
 Ethel Johnson

Alma McMillan

Alma May

Walter Miller

Harley Powell

John Richardson

Billy Vogler

Alvin Menden

Lucy Clark

Woodrow Boyd

Laura Diller

Nellie Smith

Leo Bell

Margaret Fisher

Mabel Dean

Edith

Pearl Church

Constance Scarborough

Margaret Fisher

Alphae Johnson

Mabel Dean

CLASS OF '33

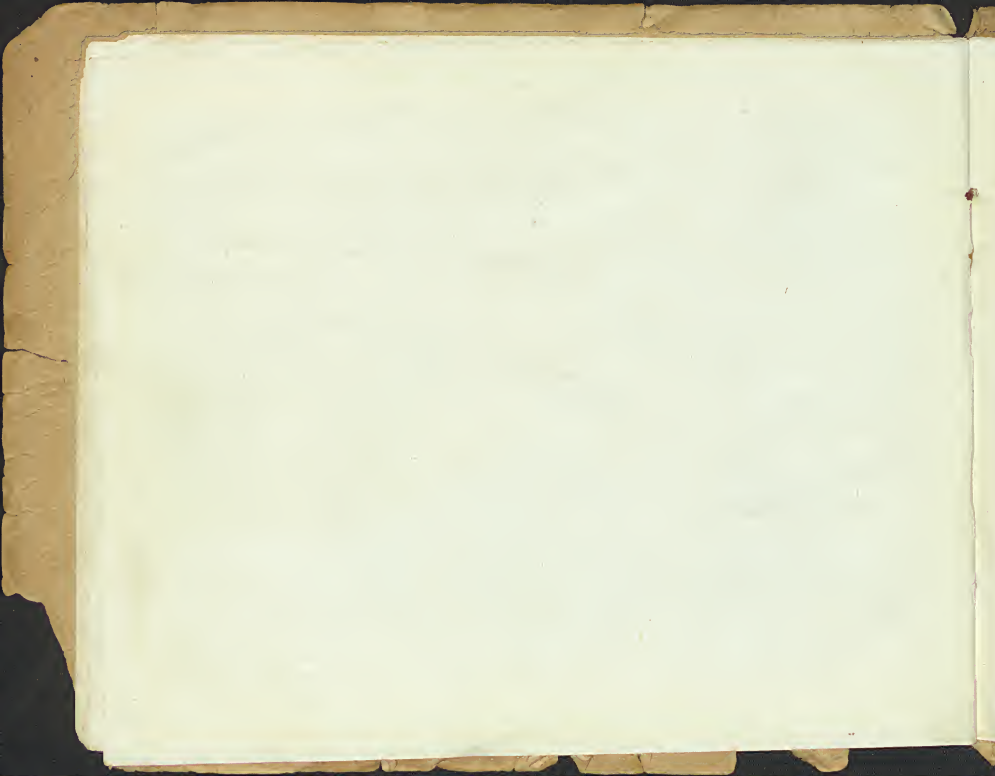

Winifred Serbell

Maggie Richardson

Edison Scurro

Marietta Whilly

Mary Frances Raybon

CLASS HISTORY

In the year 1929 the class that was to be the class of '33 began its struggle to escape the walls of the high school through graduation. The struggle has been a long hard one, lasting four years. Many have not survived the errors of examinations. Others decided that they didn't wish to escape and therefore stopped plodding along. Those scrupulous students who wish to remain in our school and who are not subject to the jury's verdict tonight are to be praised for their faithfulness and their love for Alma Mater! A number found means of escape other than graduation and took immediate advantage of this. The bonds of matrimony appealed to some of our number more than the effort to escape into the full freedom of graduation, and so they deserted us.

Those who have at last reached their goal were caught in the act and having been brought here as a witness I shall endeavor to prove to you that they are guilty.

Some of the teachers have aided and abetted students in their unlawful attempt to escape this life of school work. Many students have been given help outside of school hours by sly and cunning teachers who wished to help them on their way to graduation. A few students more ambitious refused this outside help as illegal.

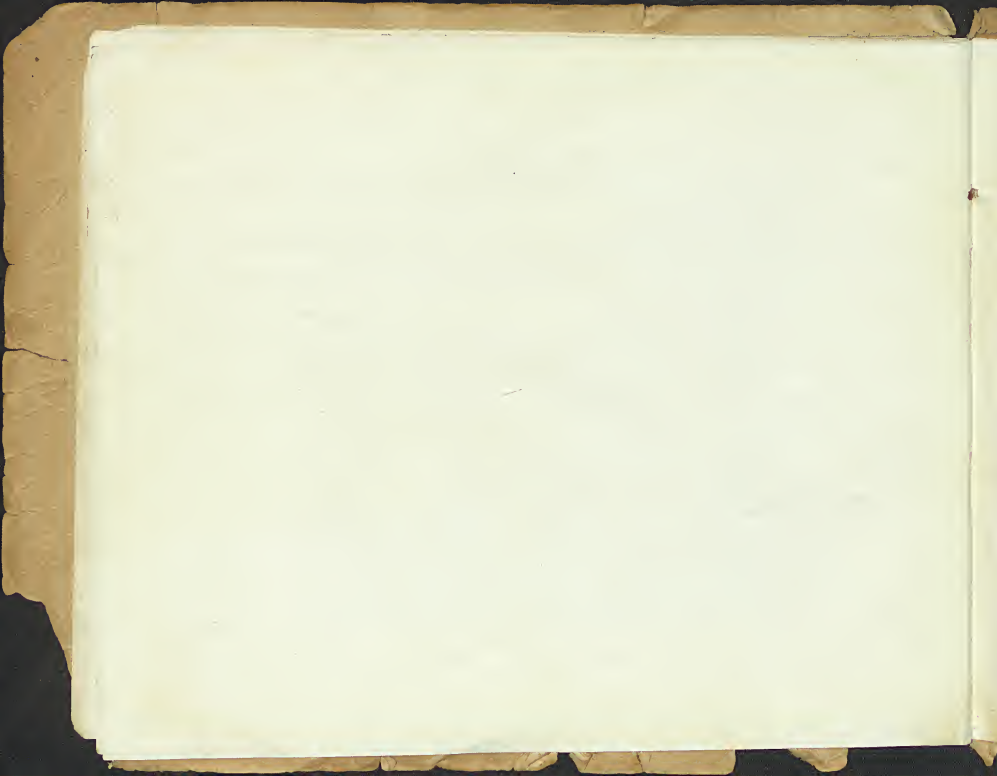

One student, dear to the hearts of those who do not wish boys and girls to finish school, actually locked a teacher out of the room. That is the reward given a teacher who tries to help them escape. Beware! You teachers. You will be caught some day and justly punished for your misdeeds.

They are to be congratulated on the splendid girls basket ball teams that have fought for the glory of W. H. S., during their high school career. Never before have they been equalled.

During their first year in high school, the girls, forgetting their goal temporarily, all began to fall in love with the same young man. Of course a fight ensued. The Home Economics Laboratory became a scene of destruction. Stew pans flew about as if a whirlwind had suddenly come up. A frying pan was vigorously employed as a paddle. The licks bestowed by that pan were by no means love licks. Finally order was restored by the irate teacher. It was well known who won the battle of blows but not who won the battle of hearts.

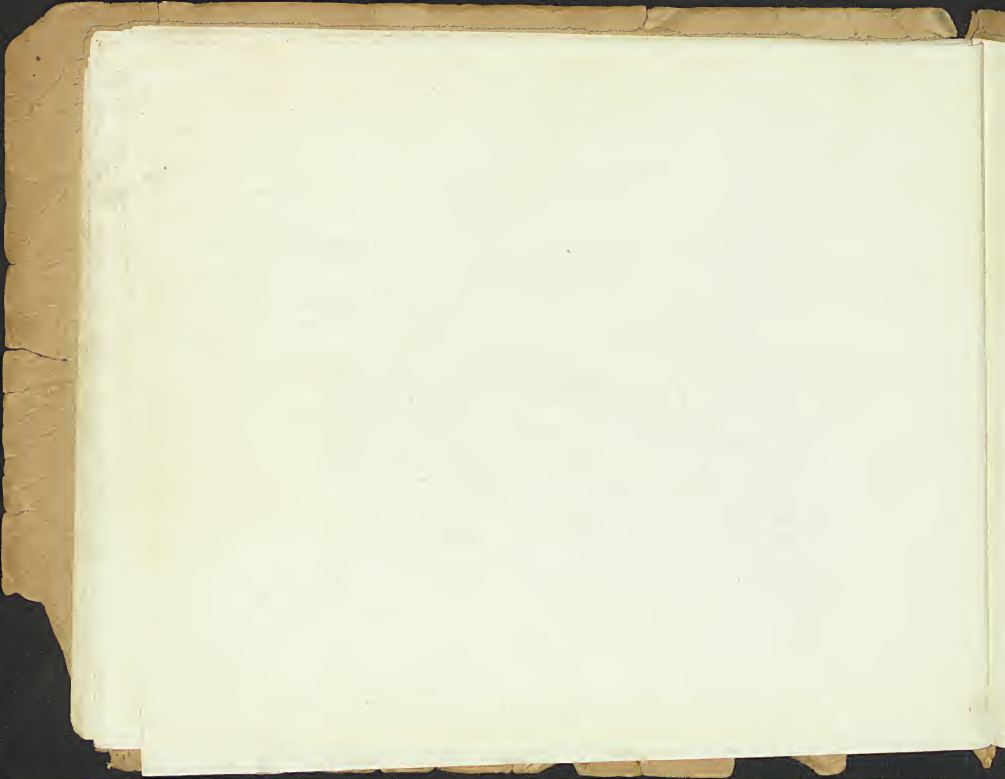

A number of boys and girls who have been extremely studious are probably now regretting their efforts as they see the gates of the institution about to close upon them.

I hope I have given sufficient evidence to convict the class of '33 in their attempt to escape by means of graduation and I urge that they be heavily punished.

SALUTATORIAN'S ADDRESS

Parents, fellow schoolmates, teachers, and friends, as we come to this final occasion in our high school life, we are extremely glad to welcome you here. Your presence at our graduation is indicative of the interest you have shown us throughout the years we have striven to reach this goal. We are indeed, indebted to our parents, our teachers, and our school, for the service they have rendered us during these, our school days. We therefore express to you our gratitude and we give you a hearty welcome to our graduation.

VALEDICTORIAN'S ADDRESS

To friends gathered here, to teachers, who have been our guides and fellow students and classmates, it is my privilege to give a last greeting. Graduation so long looked forward to, is now here. We think the exercises of to-night are the most important and the most significant experience through which we so far have passed.

Mothers, fathers, and guardians, we thank you with all our heart for making it possible for us to graduate, and we hope that some day we shall be able to repay you for all your sacrifices you have made. May you never regret having helped us in the search for knowledge.

Dear teacher, you have guided us and helped onward in our preparation for the great tasks of life by training us to think for ourselves and by implanting in us the lofty ideals and high conceptions of achievement. In return, we the Class of 1933, want to thank you for all you have done for us, and to assure you that we shall endeavor to prove our appreciation of your efforts by striving faithfully to do credit and honor to you and to our school.

Dear Classmates, we have achieved our goal at last; we are graduates! The happy years we have spent together, working and playing, are ended. Yet, the influence of these delightful years will remain with us forever, we shall carry it with us no matter where the diverse paths of life lead us, or how far the varying winds of fate may scatter us. The memory of these school years will be a bond which will ever draw us together in thought. As we have shared each others joys and sorrows in the past, so shall we always share them, and the success of one will bring happiness to all of us. To day in these graduating exercises, we are gathered here to wish one another the very best fortune, and all the happiness that life can offer. In this spirit do we part looking forward to the future, and with mingled feeling of sadness at the breaking of cherished ties, and the joy in the anticipation of the great things that lie before us, we speak a fond farewell to our dear old school, our beloved teachers, and each other.

GIFTORIANS' GIFTS

Alva Lee, since you're so fond of old jewelry, we present you with this antique bracelet to wear along with your accessories.

Zeb, we're always afraid you're going to fall apart, so we take this opportunity to give you this roll of adhesive tape to stick yourself together.

Hurl'y, we're giving you this sign post so you'll always have something to argue with.

Alvin, since we consider you one of the most honorable and upright members of our class, take this hatchet and let it be a symbol of honesty as in Washington's time when he cut the cherry tree.

Mabel, we thought perhaps you might forget the important role you played in "The Blossoming of Mary Anne," so we present you with the "hired man."

Mary Frances, we give you the picture of Jean Harlow to show you there is one more color of blond hair that you haven't yet achieved.

Edward, we've all heard that "silence is golden," but since you talk so much we know that the only way you'll ever have any gold, is for us to give it to you.

Armour, we present you with this horse shoe, hoping that you'll always have luck.

Wingate, we all know it isn't much fun having to walk out in the country alone, so we are giving you this little wagon.

Woodrow, it gives us great pleasure to present you with a cushion for your neck for if you don't stop sitting on it you'll surely have a bunion.

Leo, since you nearly pester everyone to tears over the time, we give you this watch so that you may always have the time at your convenience.

Thomas, we hope by giving you this horn, that it will remind you of the way the children blew your truck horn while you and Amos had your dally after school chat.

Daphne, we present you with this "blue ribbon" as first prize for being one of the first ones in your family to graduate before marriage claimed them.

Evelyn, in giving you this bottle of "Alice in Wonderland" lotion, we hope that it will prevent your growing taller.

Winifred, we present you with "Felix, the Cat," to bring back pleasant memories.

Ethel, since you're so smart, we give you this book of poems so that your mind will always be occupied.

Amos, we know you're going to miss driving your school bus next year so we give you this one to remind you of days gone by.

GIFTORIANS' GIFTS Continued

Marjorie, in presenting to you this hammer, we hope you are able to help do odd jobs out on the farm next year.

Pearl, we know that by this time your finger nail polish must be exhausted so we present you with a new supply.

Billie, since you're so fond of baseball, we give you this one to remember the wonderful Wake Forest games.

Maggie, may this pile of candy be an inspiration for you to live up to your name of "Sug".

Lugenia, there is no more profitable way of beginning life than with a bank account. Herewith, we present you with the bank and the rest is left to you.

Haython, the class feels that you deserve some token of appreciation for your ability for public speaking, so please accept this loving cup as our gift.

Gibson, we hope you can use this doll to good advantage when your engagements pile up too heavily this summer.

Nellie, in giving you this comb, we hope you will always have your finger waves. Helen, we give you this book on "How to Reduce" so that you can read it after every big meal.

Josie, you will find this jig-saw puzzle an interesting entertainment this summer when conversation lags.

Louise, since you're so fond of blue-eyed boys, we present you with one so you may have it ever before you.

Marietta, even though this is not "leap year," we know of no better way of spending your summer than by riding over to Zebulon in this little car.

Jessie Pearl, we give you this date-book to keep your numerous engagements accurately recorded.

Frances, we hope that this box of stationery will help keep up your correspondence both at Campbell's and State College at the same time.

Bunny, we present you with this pair of handcuffs to handcuff you to Wendell, since the Senior Class came so near losing you last fall, but it probably isn't necessary as long as the Morris family lives here.

To Alma McMillen, we take great pleasure in presenting this little Packard, so you will have a way to go to Lake Butler and Washington.

CLASS WILL

We the class of '33 are about to be dismissed from the Wendell High School, but don't want to be forgotten. Some of our most precious possessions we are going to our friends so that they will remember us after we've gone. The others leave dangling in the air for anyone who wants them.

Wishfare, our beloved senior teacher, we leave to Dan McConnell. We hope that he will and obey her as we have done.

To Mr. McNeely, the superintendent, we leave a new joke book, so he can crack some new jokes next year.

To Mr. Thompson, the principal, we leave the prospects of a better Physics class.

To Miss Spcight, we leave anything she wants that we have.

To Miss Stott, we leave all the Algebras we have learned, we won't have much use for it, but we think she will.

To Miss Inscce, we leave all the demerits we have so she may give them out again next year.

To Catherine Hinnsnt, Mary Frances Raybon leaves her talkativeness.

To Myatt Dean, Louse Bak'r leaves her tendency to laugh.

To Rachel Roberts, Lugonia Craft leaves her beauty.

To Christine Morris, Daphne Johnson leaves her dignity.

To Annie Yancey, Evelyn Dean leaves her friskiness.

To Miriam Thomas, Frances Oldham leaves her ability to learn quickly.

To Christine Coley, Josie Lane leaves her curly hair.

To Hettie Dean, Jessie Pearl Anderson leaves all her boy friends.

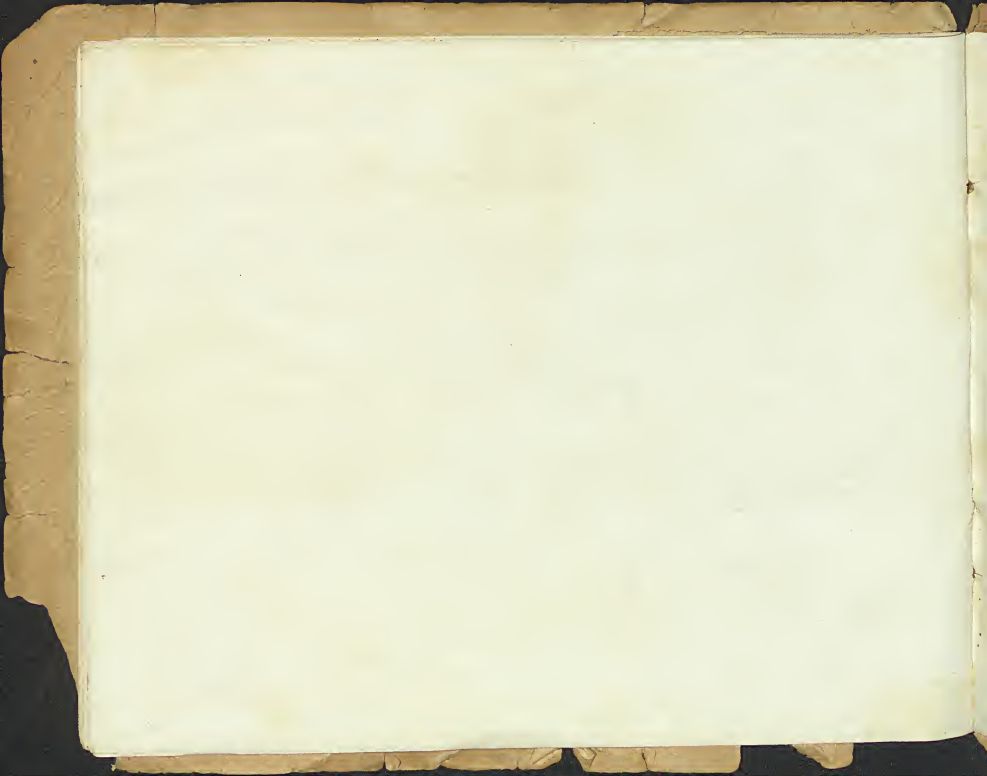

To Mamie Anne Todd, Maggie Richardson leaves her athletic ability.

To Howard Clark, Leo Britt gladly leaves his "Know-it-all".

To Felix Dodd, Zeb Richardson leaves his tendency to be late on French class.

CLASS WILL, Continued

- To Caroline Richardson, Nellie Hawkins leaves her clumsiness.
To Curtis Todd, Gibson Scarborough leaves all her love.
Bunny Underhill leaves his ability to spell to Robert Nowell.
To Percy Stott, Amos Dean leaves his Physics papers.
To Lois McMillan, Winifred Terrell leaves her hours in Mr. McNeely's office.
To John Perkins, Alvin Morris leaves his ability to play football.
To Doris Richardson, Marietts Whitley leaves her independent ways.
To Allie Bunch, Ethel Johnson leaves her "book of knowledge."
To Colon Bunch, Armour Baker leaves his tendency to disturb a class.
To J. E. Scarborough, Hurley D. Powell leaves the taps on his shoes, so J. E. can make more fuss as he goes down the hall.
To Louise Carter and Myrtle Nowell, Helen Medlin leaves her fatness.
To Gordon Young, Woodrow Lloyd leaves his English Book, but I'm afraid Gordon will have to find it first.
To Dwight Mattox, Haythorn Horton leaves his tendency to talk on class.
To Bruce Knott, Edward Mattox leaves his great supply of books.
To Virginia Dare Liles, Alma McMillan leaves her air castles which she has built during her high school career.
To Laura Richardson, Marjorie Ferrell leaves her Senior Class desk.
To Elizabeth Brame and Adelaide Strickland, Billie Vogler leaves her voice for singing in the Glee Club.
To Arthur Mitchell, Wingate Underhill and Thomas Scarborough leave their ability to make the honor roll.
To Myrtle Barnes, Alva Lee Maye leaves her regular attendance.
To Maggie Dean, Mabel Dean leaves her awkwardness.
I, Pearl Edwards, have nothing I wish to leave, I'm taking all I possess with me.

FAREWELL TO GRADUATES

Rose Chain Song To Seniors by Sophomore Class

Tune—"Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms"

How sad mid the sunshine that gladdens this scene,
Comes the thought that today we must part;
That the band which affection has ever kept green
Must be severed today in the heart;
That you meet in this home of your childhood no more,
As you lovingly met to the last;
That you never again on this time bounded shore
May unite in the songs of the past.

But fondly your thoughts will return to the spot
On the wings of remembrance born up;
And your hearts shall rejoice, while you cherish the lot
That permits you to drink of this cup.
Then farewell to your school, and farewell to the friends
Who hath lighted your pathway of love;
Though today we must part, yet our prayers will ascend
That our school be united above.

